

Kopi Cat & the Great Election

For Reya and Sania

Rosvinder the Raconteur

In the bustling town of Merlionville, something exciting was happening...

It was Election Day!

Everyone was buzzing – even the bees!

Ya Kun Kaya Toast

Ya Kun Kaya Toast

Kopi the Cat loved two things:
kaya toast and curious questions.
Today, he had one big question:
“Who should be our next Mayor?”

Candidate #1: Parrot Pritam

Parrot flapped up and chirped,
"If you vote for me, I promise to squawk for fairness!"

He gave out free sunflower seeds.
Very persuasive.

Candidate #2: Lion Lawrence

With his shiny mane and mighty roar, he growled, "We must teach the cubs to hunt, not hand them fish!" But Kopi Cat wondered - "What if they just want satay?"

Candidate #3: Hamster Hazel

"Let's thrive, not just survive!"

Then rolled into the crowd on a giant exercise wheel.

All over Merlionville, posters popped up:
"Vote for Hope!" "Let's Roar Forward!"
"One Voice, One Village!"
Even the kopi stalls had slogans in their teh tarik foam.

But Kopi Cat wanted to know more.
So he asked his teacher, Ms Owl,
"How do we choose wisely?"

Ms Owl hooted wisely,
"Pick the one who listens, not just the one who speaks loudest."

Kopi Cat nodded, though secretly, he liked Parrot's feathers.

Finally, Election Day arrived!
Everyone lined up-dogs, ducks,
(okay, not durians, they smelled too strong.)

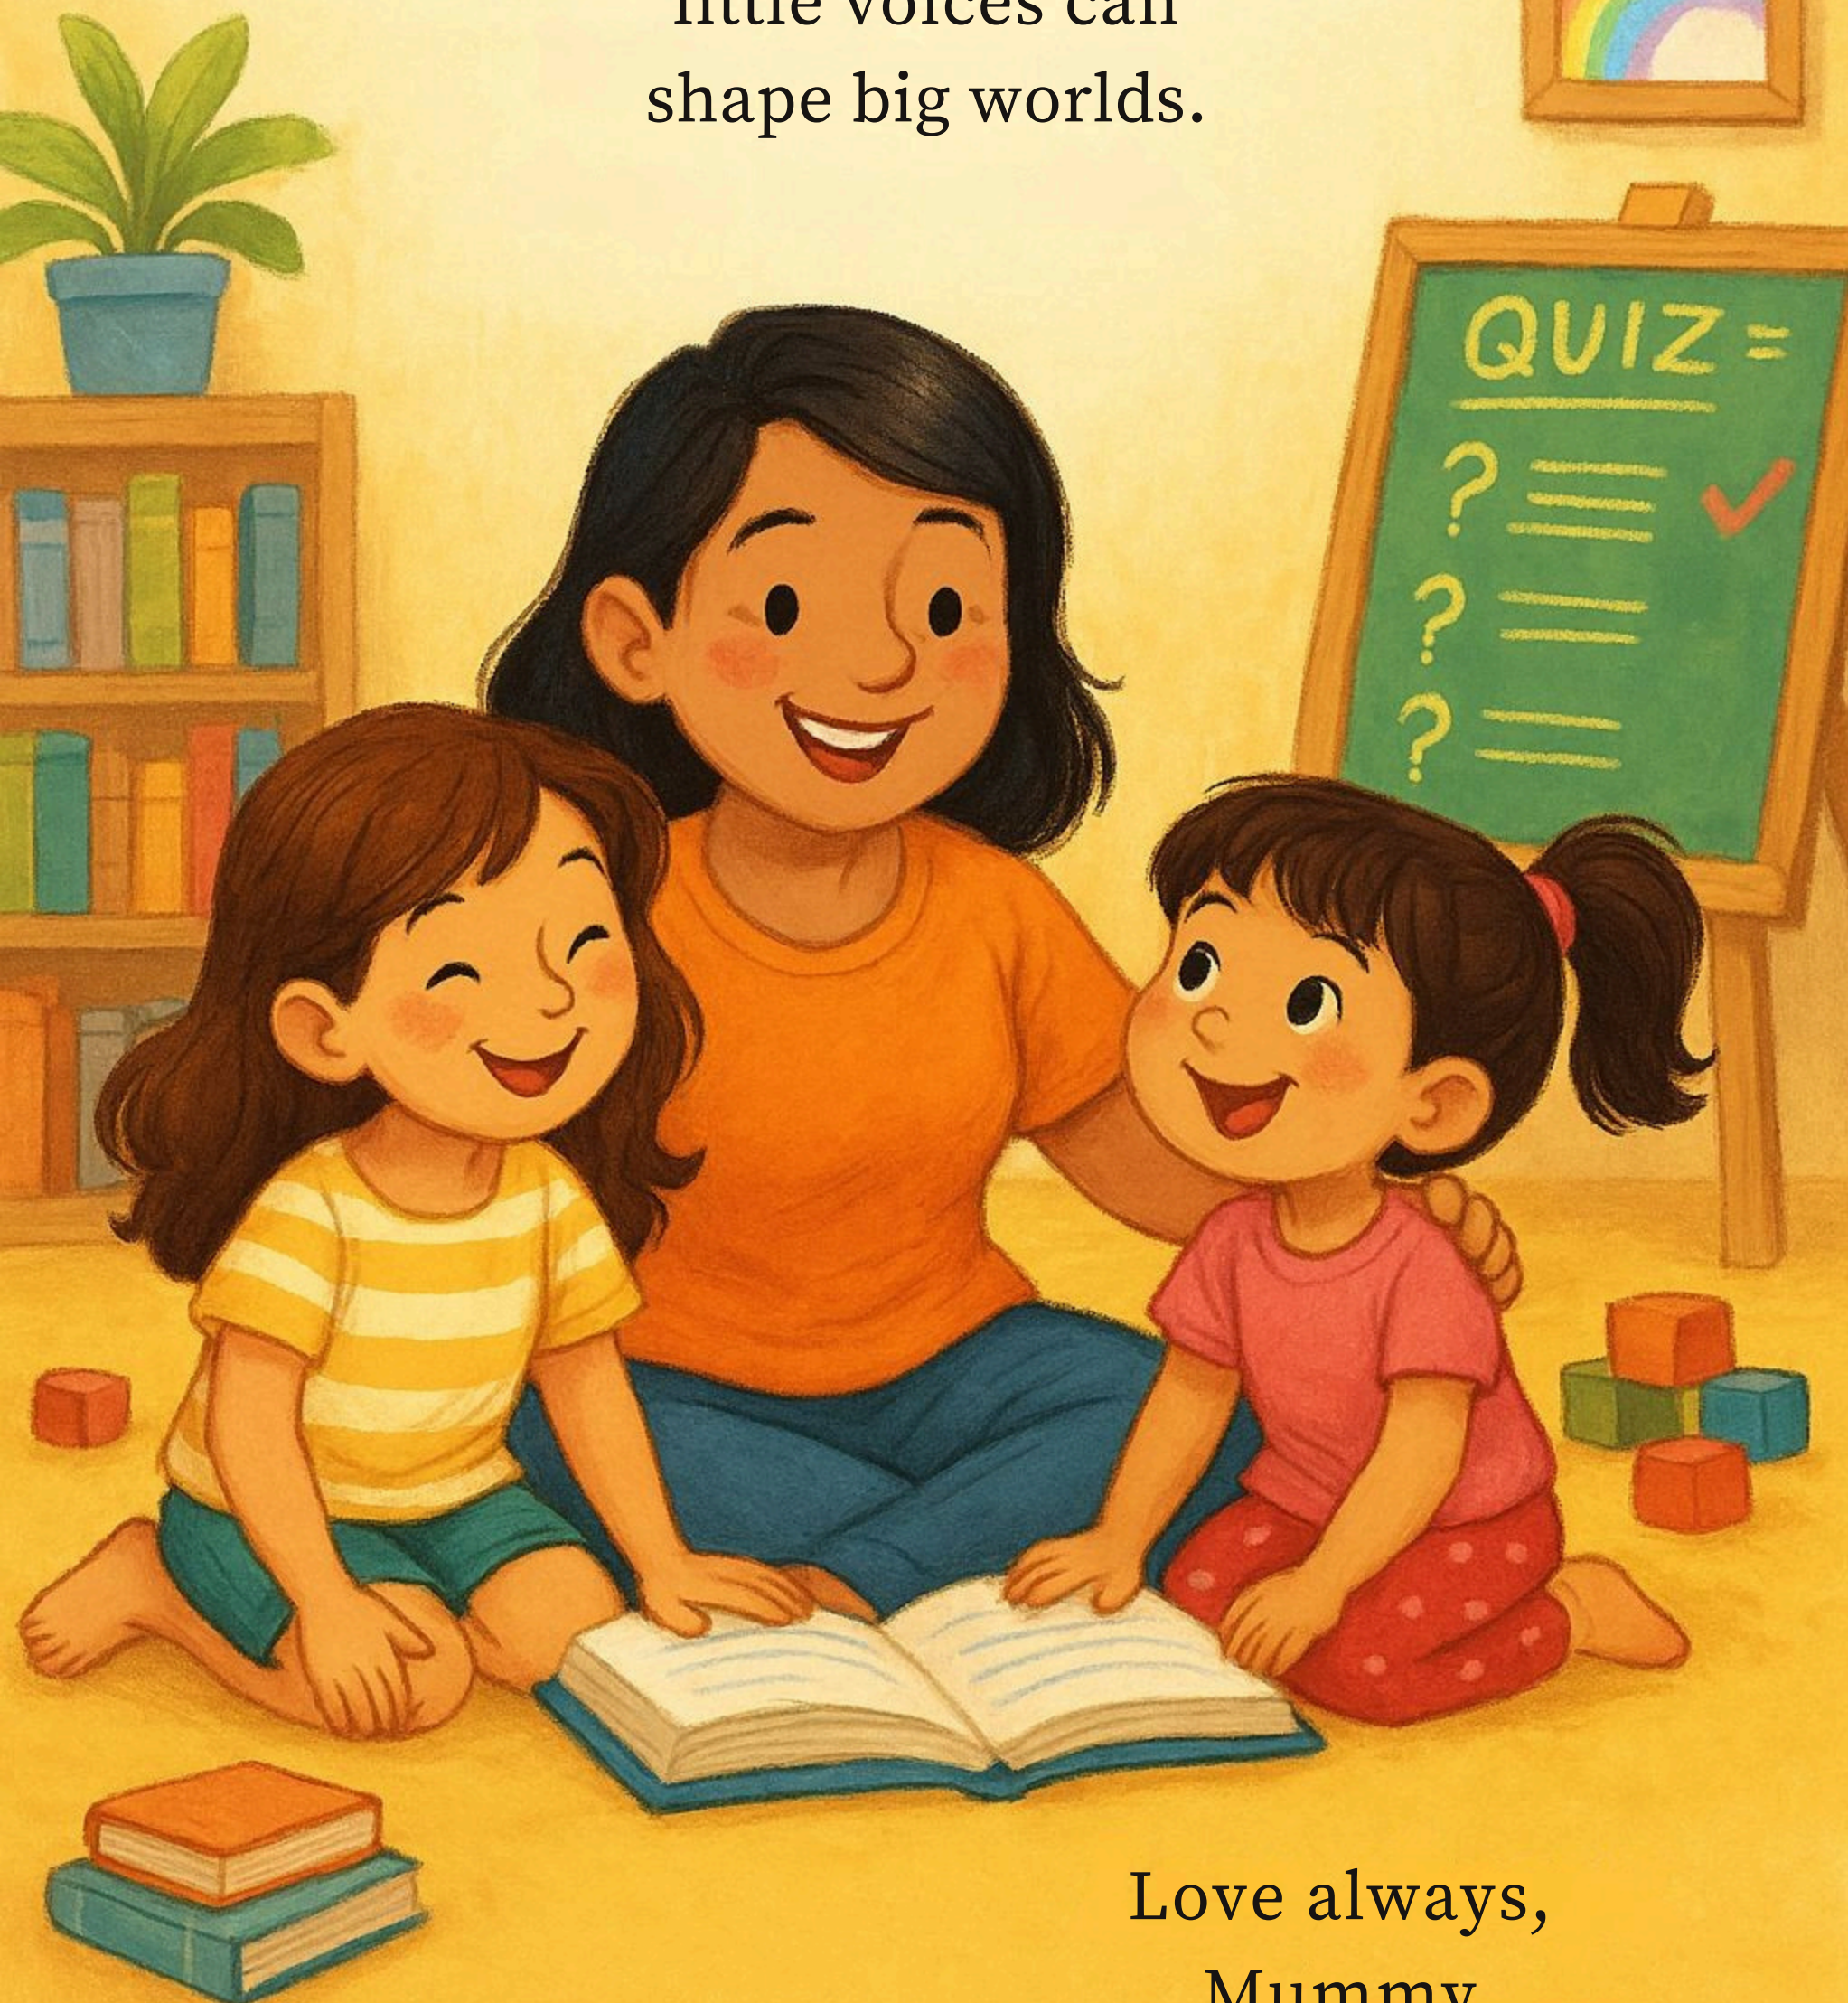

That night, the results came in. The winner smiled and said,
"Thank you, Merlionville. Let's build a better treehouse - together."

Kopi Cat purred.
Elections weren't just about speeches and stickers -
They were about listening, learning, and leading with heart.

For Reya and Sania,
who ask the best questions,
dream the boldest dreams,
and remind me that even little voices can shape big worlds.

Love always,
Mummy

For Reya and Sania

What the Candidates Represent

Parrot Pritam

The Charismatic Communicator

- Talks about fairness
- Speaks clearly
- Strong on messaging

Lion

Lawrence

The Authoritative
Incumbent

- Teaches discipline
- Brings experience
- Focused on continuity

Hamster

Hazel

The Energetic
Reformer

- Full of momentum
- Promotes new ideas
- Optimistic